Student Senate announced Operation Pencil Box, an effort to collect new packages of the following items:

- pencils and pens
- erasers
- chalk
- bookmarks
- shoes with laces
- socks (new)
- shampoo
- soap
- toothbrushes and toothpaste
- hand sanitizer
- fungernail polish.

All items will help 1998 Coffman grad Will Sauder complete part of his assignment with the United States Army. Sauder is currently stationed in Tikrit, Iraq with the 835th Corps Support Battalion. Please drop off all items to Senate members who will be in front of the library.

The Reaper strikes again

Teen Institute sponsored a visit by the Grim Reaper as part of their effort to promote a safe, alcohol-free Prom. Below, Senior Jono Gasparro gets picked to "die," meaning he could not speak for the remainder of the school day.

How will YOU describe YOUR college experience?

Greta Johnson
Capital University Class of 2005
Major: Biology/Pre-Med

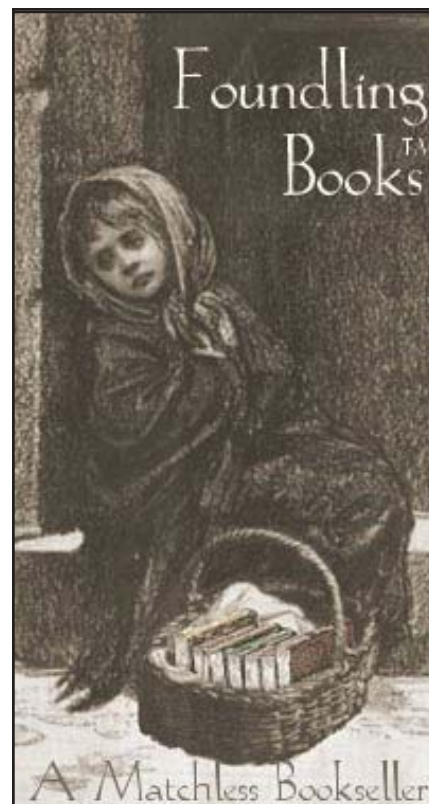

My experience at Capital University has been incredible and one I won't soon forget! ... The individual attention Capital students receive from their professors is what I believe puts our university on an academic pedestal. My experience also has been enhanced by the opportunities to participate in many activities and organizations around campus. ... I would love for every college student to experience what I am experiencing now at Capital University!
